THIRD PARTY IS LAUNCHED; LAFOLLETTE MAY BE THE NOMINEE Palmer Charged With Using Fund To Fight Living Cost To Boost His Candidacy

DEMOCRATS, REPUBLICANS DENOUNCED IN ADDRESS

CHICAGO, July 10.—The Republican and Democratic parties were denounced as "the right wing of the same kind of prey" at the opening of a proposed "Third Party" national convention here today.

Seizing the keynote of the assembly called together by the committee of 48 to adopt a platform and place in the field another set of candidates for presidency and vice presidency, Allen McCurdy, temporary chairman, charged that the two big parties, had created a "palmer fund" to fight the living cost of living. He said the fund was a "time when the country needs a new law and order freedom."

The abolition of special privilege, Mr. McCurdy said, was the issue around which the new party would appeal to the voters in November. He said the party proposed effecting that end through removing the sources from which privilege derives its power.

"To accomplish this purpose," he declared, "it proposes public ownership of transportation and if the principal basic resources of the country and declares that all laws held out of use for speculation should be forced into use by taxation."

Under the actual conditions under which we live, after years of so-called slavery the Republican party and the Democratic party come into the open and reveal themselves to themselves and to the nation as nothing but the right wing and the left wing of the same kind of prey. It is no longer possible for any one even to pretend that there is any difference on any issue between them. There is not a word in either of their platforms that might not have been written and originally composed of corporation lawyers and Wall Street bankers. The only difference between these plat-

HENRY FORD BUYS D.T.&I.

DETROIT, MICH., July 10.—Purchase of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad by Henry Ford and his son, Edsel B. Ford, was announced by E. G. Leibold, secretary to Henry Ford. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Purchase of the road, was, in part, the outgrowth of difficulties Michigan industries have experienced for several years in obtaining coal from the southeastern bituminous fields. Running direct to Detroit from the coal fields and avoiding the usually congested gateways of Ohio, the line was recognized as a big factor in the state's coal supply by the Michigan Manufacturers' Association which several months ago had appointed a committee to look into its purchase. The plan was abandoned, however, when it was found that the facilities could not be obtained.

Mr. Ford took up negotiations primarily to assure his Detroit factories an adequate fuel supply, but through contemplated expansion of terminals, industries generally in the Detroit area and those in other Michigan cities are expected to benefit by the deal. Negotiations for the purchase of the road had been under way several weeks. Security holders deposited their bonds under an option good until August 1. At that time it was said the deal would involve approximately $4,000,000.

New Canadian Premier

OTTAWA, July 10.—Arthur Meighen, former minister of the interior today was sworn in as premier, succeeding Sir Robert Borden, who recently resigned.

Granted Increased Rates

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.—An increase of freight rates of 25 percent for hauling bulk and other heavy products was granted yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Third Party Notables

SENATOR ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE of Wisconsin appears to be the popular choice of third partyites in Chicago for the presidential nomination.

Wisconsin Man Favorite For Nomination

CHICAGO, July 10.—The committee of forty-eight, assisted by fraternal delegates representing a half dozen liberal and radical organizations, launched the third party movement today in its first national convention.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, determined in a mail referendum taken by the party as the most popular candidate for the party's presidential nomination, appeared to have no opposition as the delegates assembled.

Nearly all of the five or six hundred delegates were La Follette hedges. To day's session was given over largely to keynote addresses and organization work. Allen McCurdy, of New York, made the keynote address that condemned the Republican and Democratic platforms and candidates and declared the time ripe for a new deal politically.

All of the groups, in the main, while separated in their aims, came to Chicago with some pet plank for the third party platform and the task of continuing all elements in a satisfactory fusion, proved complicated.

The railroad ownership question was a stumbling block. All elements are agreed they want public ownership of the carriers written into the platform.

SERIOUS UPRISING IN CHINA IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—American forces now in Peking consist of a legion guard of 275 marines commanded by Colonel Mason Guitch. While no American army forces are stationed there, the fifteenth infantry, the only American army detachment in China, is at Tien Tsin about 80 miles from Peking, and could be brought up to the capital on short notice, officials said today.

In addition to the American guard, a number of other powers have permanent legion guards at Peking.

No report of a threatened attack on Peking has reached either the war department or marine corps headquarters.

U.S. Marines In Peking

PEKING, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Warning has been given the government by the diplomatic corps here that in case of an uprising there must be no fighting in this city and that Peking must not be subjected to bombardment. Forces commanded by Tuan Chi Jui, former premier and minister of war, are surrounding Peking.

General Wu Pei Fu, who has been relieved of the command of government in this city, is near Pao Ting Fu thirty miles south of here, but whether fighting occurs there will depend, it is said, upon the acceptance by Wu Pei Fu of his dismissal. Chang Tse Lin, governor of Shantung, who has been acting as a peace maker, has retired to Tien Tsin in await developments. He has seven divisions of soldiers under his command, but there is no indication of present of their intentions.

The latter's nomination has been blocked in parliament and the Anti element pressing for the appointment of Tuan Chi Jui.

Under pressure from the Anti-Union, the president issued a decree depriving general Tse Kuo of the governorship of Shantung, but in the meantime is requiring him to discharge the duties of the office. There have been several days of great tension here, and rumors of uprisings have been current in the city.

He Loved His Wife But Murdered Her In Order To Be Free

CHICAGO, July 10.—Carl Wandering, former army lieutenant and self-confessed slayer of his wife and an unidentified stranger, was ordered held to the grand jury on two charges of murder today by the coroner's jury.

CAR SHORTAGE MAY CLOSE STEEL PLANTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Suspension of work in many steel plants, throwing thousands of workers out of employment, is threatened because of car shortage, the interstate commerce commission was told today by J. F. Townsend, representing more than a score of steel manufacturers in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Few Differences Between Conventions

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920, by The Times Publishing Company.)

AN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 9.—Though the differences between the Republican and Democratic conventions be few, they are nevertheless worth analyzing.

Emotionalism reached its peak in the discussion of politics here and in the almost fanatical loyalty with which the supporters of McAdoo refused to accept his declaration to be a candidate and carried his name through a mighty battle because he seemed to embody the vision of a Wilson and the aggressiveness of a Roosevelt.

It's all over now and neither McAdoo nor Hiram Johnson can be the beneficiary of a post mortem but there is a striking similarity between the devotion of the folks who worshipped Hiram Johnson and the folks who fought valiantly for McAdoo. At Chicago the idealists weren't even given a hearing. They were bluntly shoved aside and outwitted by the master strategists. At San Francisco, the idealists were listened to and then calmly overruled.

Few men in recent years have succeeded in kindling the emotion to which William Jennings Bryan set fire in the Democratic convention. Hiram Johnson sat by adding the reception that a California audience gave to a man who made his appeal on a moral issue, but cruel and unrelenting political expediency sent Bryan to defeat within a few minutes after the delegates and the gathered crowd ceased cheering him. They accepted his doctrine but not his frank suggestion that the convention go on record as it had cheered.

William Jennings Bryan is grieved and humiliated. His friends see the great orator disappointed not because he wasn't selected for the presidency as so many people have believed was his ambition, but because he was in the hour of his greatest triumph—the ratification of the prohibition amendment—his own party turned a deaf ear to as sincere and forceful a plea as was ever made on a public platform.

The memory of Bryan fighting for a dry plank in the Democratic platform will always be the dramatic episode of the convention. He stood there like a crusader offering his life to a cause, pleading with the dry states not to be deceived by the leaders from wet states. But they didn't heed his advice. They dodged the issue and the wet states nominated a candidate whom Bryan believed was wet.

Bryan will not bolt the party. He will probably not make any speeches against Cox for the latter will sooner or later make it clear that any revival of the wet and dry issue rests with Congress. Bryan, however, plans to fight for a dry congress. In all likelihood he will fight for a dry congress.

SENATOR KENYON TO ASK FUND'S REPEAL

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 10.—Repeal of the appropriation granted by the last congress to the department of justice to fight the high cost of living, will be demanded by Senator Kenyon on the ground that it was used primarily to boost Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer for the Democratic presidential nomination, the senator announced today.

Senator Kenyon, chairman of the senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures, which is holding hearings here, said he was convinced that "little of this appropriation was used to fight the high cost of living."

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 10.—The senate investigating committee planned to disband temporarily tonight after examination today of several witnesses, who may be able to give information concerning the pre-convention activities in behalf of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

After today's hearing Senator Kenyon will return to Washington, while Senators Reed and Spencer said they would return to their homes for a while.

Sensors Edges and Tompkins and other members are not present.

Three women were subpoenaed for today's hearing. They are Mrs. John H. Rutledge, Mrs. Frank Hayes and Mrs. Anna L. Hoffman, also of St. Louis, and connected with the Missouri Woman's High Cost of Living Bureau, which witnesses yesterday charged had been used "primarily to advocate the candidacy of Palmer."

A. C. Stivers, wealthy St. Louisan, Edward P. Gollra, Democratic national committee member, and Joseph T. Davis, St. Louis attorney, are expected to testify before the committee at future hearings probably in Washington, since they were not able to reach St. Louis for today's session.

Questioning of a dozen witnesses by the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures yesterday resulted in charges that high cost of living bureaus established by the department of justice were "political enterprises" used primarily to "bring about the nomination of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, for president, by the Democratic national convention."

Witnesses also declared that Edward Gollra, Democratic national committee member from Missouri, distributed

5000 Draft Evaders Have Been Convicted

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Five thousand draft evaders have been convicted in federal courts and given sentences of from thirty days to one year in prison, according to reports compiled today at the department of justice. Thirty thousand cases remain to be investigated, but officials said today that much progress was being made in rounding up the delinquents. The figures, it was explained, do not include cases of persons who were called in the draft and deserted, as such cases are handled by the military authorities.

So far approximately 275,000 cases of delinquents—men who succeeded in avoiding military entrance into the service—have been investigated by the department out of a total of 333,414 reported. The results of the investigation show about 10,000 cases of failure to register and an equal number of those who had deserted.

About 25 percent of the men listed as delinquents were found by the department's agents to have enlisted in the American or allied armies without the knowledge of their local boards. About forty percent of the draft evaders are accounted for by the department on the score of the floating population with no permanent homes, and some twenty percent are considered as willful delinquents who failed to perform their duty through ignorance. The remainder is made up of cripples and willful delinquents who intentionally avoided service.

Careful attention is being given false questionnaire returns, officials declared, as well as cases where wealthy men bought farms before the call and obtained deferred classification on the ground of necessary business.

Fuller Bunk Says: Would Take Half Million Jews To Palestine

LONDON, July 10.—Proposals that a half million Jews be taken to Palestine within the next year, made by Dr. Max Nordau at today's session of the International Zionist conference, were sharply attacked by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who declared he favored a more moderate program.

"Such an undertaking," Dr. Weizmann declared, "is impossible. The difficulty is not with the British government, nor the San Remo conference nor the Zionist organization, but with the Jews who have failed to rise to the situation proposed by decisions reached at San Remo. When Jews are prepared to sacrifice their flesh, blood, and treasure to the maximum degree they may undertake to settle half a million of their race in Palestine within a year. The question is not what the Zionist leaders or the British government have decided, but what the Jews have decided to do."

The reason many a fellow is down, have done, but what the Jews have done, is because he's in jail.

WILLIAM R. HEARST, publisher of a chain of newspapers, says he will support a third party if it declares unequivocally against a league of nations. Some think Hearst is fishing for the nomination.

Canadian Roads Seek Increase

MONTREAL, QUEBEC, July 10.—The Canadian Railway Association, representing all lines in the Dominion today applied to the railway commission for a thirty percent increase in freight rates.

Lord Fisher Dies From Operation

LONDON, July 10.—Admiral John Arbuthnot Fisher, first baron of Kilcubbin, and former first lord of the admiralty, died this morning.

Lord Fisher underwent a serious operation yesterday and failed to recover.

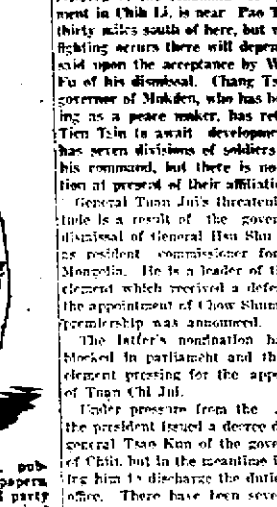

Lord Fisher began his naval career in 1854, and while on active service he took part in the Crimean, Chinese, and Egyptian wars. He became first lord of the admiralty in 1902, and first sea lord of the admiralty in 1909.

He was removed from retirement in October, 1914, to resume his post as first sea lord of the admiralty, and directed the naval warfare against Germany. His vigorous policy caused him to be termed "the Kitchener of the British navy," and chief credit has been claimed for him in the bottling up of the German navy. Cabinet disputes led to his resignation in May, 1915, but he continued to serve the British government in various capacities throughout the war, and was a prominent naval critic.

His wife died in 1911, and he was survived by three sons and three daughters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—November 15 has been determined upon as the date for the first meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations, it was stated today at the state department.

Delinquent Taxes Collected

CHICAGO, July 10.—More than $125,000 in delinquent excise taxes had been collected by the internal revenue department in the first thirty days of the government's drive against tax evaders, according to an announcement today by Thomas O'Brien, chief field deputy.

The drive so far has been aimed against manufacturers, theatre owners, clothing, and dealers in luxuries, but others have now been given for an investigation of cabarets, clubs and restaurants, to see whether they have paid proper amusement taxes.

Poles Retire To Their Frontiers

PARIS, July 10.—Polish forces are withdrawing from Brest-Litovsk, Vilna and Plinsk as a result of the Russian Bolshevik offensive according to a telegram received by the newspaper L'Information, this morning.

Evacuation of Brest-Litovsk, Vilna and Plinsk would seem to indicate a general withdrawal of the Polish line from the frontier of that new republic. Latest dispatches from Warsaw have shown the Poles to be struggling against the Russian Soviet armies, a considerable distance east of Brest-Litovsk, although Plinsk would seem to be threatened by the advance of General Budnyak, further south.

Brest-Litovsk is approximately 120 miles east of Warsaw, and is a strong, fortified town. It is located on the navigable river Bug and is an important railway junction. About 90 miles east of Brest-Litovsk, Vilna is the principal city of Lithuania and is about 225 miles northeast of Warsaw.

FIVE OF PLANE CREW KILLED

C. F. HATCHER SUPERINTENDENT OF DISTRICT NO. 1 SCIOTO COUNTY

At a meeting of the presidents of the boards of education of District No. 1, Friday, in the office of County Superintendent E. O. McCowen, C. F. Hatcher was elected district superintendent for the ensuing year, upon the recommendation of the county superintendent. His salary was fixed at $2,100 per year. The meeting was called by John Staker, president of the Green township board of education. Scioto county is divided into two districts, northern and southern. Mr. Hatcher will be superintendent of the southern district which includes Nile, Tuscarora, Washington, Bush, Clay, Vernon, Green and Haverhill school districts.

stays in session, since the declared object of the committee is to enlist the support of the national non-partisan league in the northwest states, World War Veterans Association and other political and non-political organizations not usually classed as conservative.

Robert G. MacAuley, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the national single tax committee, which claimed to have delegates from twenty-three states in attendance, called them together outside of the committee convention, just before it convened, but the separate session was immediately adjourned. Both the platform and procedure committees of the attempted fusion committee planned to begin hearings in the open on their work. Their convention planned to adjourn over Sunday, when the labor party convention proper also will assemble.

The result of the conference tomorrow between the committee of forty-eight and the representatives of the labor party will tell the tale," said Dudley Field Malone, of New York in discussing the committee's plans for the formation of a third party. "If the elements here can be united into a cohesive whole and can offer the country a comprehensive message, then there will be a third party."

Difficulties between the programs of the committee of forty-eight and the labor party remained acute where they touch on the railroad problem, leaders of both groups said today after conferences which had continued the greater part of the night. Both groups stand for government ownership, but differ as to the amount of "Democratic management" of the transportation systems if they should be taken over by the government.

The labor group representatives insisted that boards of directors and the controlling officers under government administration of the roads should be selected by and from the employees at most exclusively, while the committee of forty-eight representatives insist that control should be largely in the hands of officials representing the public.

Non-partisan league representatives who conferred with the labor party leaders last night and were reported to have pledged their aid in organizing the leaders of the northwest behind the new party announced today that they were attending the conferences in a personal capacity only.

but differ materially on the degree of participation by the employees in the directing control of the lines.

Before adjourning to attend the conference of the committee of forty-eight, the single tax delegates took a definite stand as to the grounds upon which they could fuse with the new group. These included an unequivocal and bitter stand against "socialist and paternalistic policies." They also insisted their steering committee "demand perpetually the inclusion of a single tax plank in the event of fusion."

State standards were hoisted on the convention floor by all the states, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the District of Columbia. "We do not necessarily believe in a third party," McKinley said, "but we do believe that the Republican and Democratic parties represent a two party government."

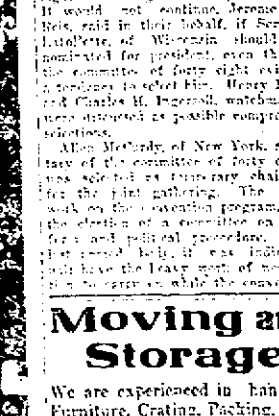

McCurdy drew prolonged applause when he declared there was "a large difference between the deeds and acts of the present administration." Mention of the name of Attorney General Palmer drew hisses and boos from every direction. When the speaker described the present head of the department of justice as a "persecutor and not a prosecutor," he was loudly cheered. He added: "And we would abolish without reservations whatever the use of the injunction in labor cases."

At the conclusion of Mr. McCurdy's address there was a demonstration of some length which ended with a march around the hall by the single tax group, the convention immediately began the work of permanently organizing.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Delegates summoned to Chicago by the committee of forty-eight and representatives of the single tax movement got together today in the preliminary of an attempt to nominate a fusion, third party presidential candidate to run on a platform satisfactory to both elements. Conference, continuing nearly all night between the committee leaders and the active heads of the national labor party, looking to further amalgamation, had not brought about agreement, however, and the meeting was adjourned until the first day's session with the committee of forty-eight adjourned was only tentative. It would not continue, Jerome G. Hays, said in his lobby. If Senator Lodge, of Wisconsin, should be nominated for president, even though the committee of forty-eight opposed the nomination, it would be a serious blow to the fusion movement.

Ships Will Be Given To France

PARIS, July 10.—German steamers seized by Brazil during the war probably will be definitely given to France, according to a Spa dispatch to the Paris Herald. This is under the provisions of an agreement relating the division of enemy tonnage, the newspaper says, adding that Belgium and Italy will receive more ships than under the 1918 plan.

SENATOR NEW WILL HEAD G. O. P. SPEAKERS BUREAU

CHICAGO, July 10.—Republican national headquarters today announced that Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, will head the Republican campaign speakers' bureau. National Committee Chairman Hays gave out the following outlines of the speaking plans:

"The speakers' bureau will be headed by United States Senator Harry S. New of Indiana as chairman. Senator New directed the Roosevelt campaign of 1904 from western headquarters. Associated with him to head the eastern division will be Congressman Thomas R. Miller, of Delaware, eastern manager for General Wood, in the pre-convention campaign. Congressman J. W. Good of Iowa, chairman of the appropriations committee of the house, will be in charge of the western division, headquarters Chicago. These men will give all of their time to the work, with a full corps of assistants."

The speaking campaign of the senatorial and congressional committees have been consolidated with the national committees work, and there will be but one speaker's bureau. Apart from these national activities, Senator New will keep in close touch with the campaign in his own state. He is taking up this work not only because of his deep interest but at the earnest personal request of Senator Harding and Chairman Hays."

Good Word for the Parrot
Testy people consider the parrot a nuisance and the loquacious bird has often engendered legal strife, but to the factious person he is an endless source of amusement. He has an inherent weakness for profanity, which is apt to be embarrassing, but a man who has not tasted spicuous liquors never craves them, and a parrot who has not heard profanity will not long for it as the best medium of expressing his sentiments. In this respect he promotes culture and refinement in the home.

Easy to Get Rid of Enemy
Long before bullets were ever thought of as an ideal messenger of death, the idea of working evil on an enemy was extensively practiced by the Chinese. He would make a small wooden image of the one whose destruction he sought, and then place his head or heart with a needle. This was positive in his belief that the object of his hate would be similarly affected. However, to make certain, he would burn the puppet in the accompanying of magical words.

Commonplace Switzerland
Before the Romans conquered the territory now known as Switzerland, it was inhabited by a congregation of hostile tribes, for the most part of Celtic origin. But the district of the Alps in which the present cantons of the Grisons is situated was in possession of the Rauri, of mixed Latin and Celtic stock. At the time of the Roman invasion of the Roman empire, Rauri received a certain number of German speaking immigrants, and in the French country was used for a while as a basis of operations by the Saragosa brigands, who made Europe unsafe.

FALL BLOUSE IN BLACK AND WHITE

The black and white robe which is so universally liked is struck in this charming blouse designed for fall wear. White georgette makes the blouse and black braiding and embroidery forms the trimmings. Tiny bows of gros grain ribbon on the sleeves and a narrow belt of the same which barely marks the waistline form the finishing touches.

Ironton Council Deals Jolts To Mayor Collett

Ironton City Council paid but little attention to the communication from Mayor Collett suggesting that bids be sought from various corporations for the Ironton street railway franchise. The councilmen also turned down the Mayor's Health Board appointments. Concerning these matters the Irontonian in its report of the proceedings of the Ironton Council last evening says:

"A communication from the Mayor setting forth his views on the street railway franchise matter, attracted little attention for the reason that it had been exploited in the public press by the Mayor before being given to Council. At one member remarked: 'If the honorable Mayor would learn a little more about public affairs and contemplated legislation before rushing into print with his objections it would be better for him.' It was pointed out that the Mayor did not even know what was in the ordinance although it had been discussed for weeks, and had not taken sufficient interest in the matter to meet with Council when it was finally considered. It was pointed out by members that no increased fare for 25 years was allowed but that the fare was made 10 cents with the provision that it would be changed by agreement or by ordinance at any time.

"When the ordinance came up for discussion City Solicitor Irish argued that the rate of fare, either 5 or 7 cents as might be decided upon should be allowed without any provision for limitation but Council maintained the clause in the ordinance and it was adopted without suspension of the rules by unanimous vote as it stood. The fare provided for originally is 10 cents.

In connection with the adoption of the ordinance Mr. James Ingham of Sept. Thoma what the company proposed to do regarding repairs to the line. Mr. Thoma stated that the application for an extension of franchise and an increase in fare was for the purpose of making it possible to raise the fare for the betterment of the system as it was now in a run down condition and would have to be materially improved.

"When the matter of confirmation of the Mayor's recommendations for members of the Board of Health was taken up for discussion it was decided to take a secret ballot on the proposition and this being done resulted in six negative votes. This will make it necessary for the Mayor to either send in the same recommendations at some future meeting or a new list for health board members."

HUNTINGTON "JAILBIRDS" ARE FOILED IN A DESPERATE PLAN TO ESCAPE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 10.—Wholesale depredations committed in the county jail in an effort to accomplish a general delivery of prisoners, discovered within the last few days have led to the sending of four men to Moundsville penitentiary. All had been sentenced but it is the custom to hold convicts until the end of the court term, when all go to prison together.

Sheriff H. E. Love requested that Charles Lambert, one year for larceny; Clyde Turley, six years for grand larceny; Homer Milburn, two years for forgery, and Parker Bush, two years for burglary, be sent immediately because of their dangerous character.

The desperate intentions of the four men are disclosed in the finding of a trunk chain knotted at one end so as to make a vicious "dilly" in, one of the cells. The jail authorities believe that in case of an effort to stop the prisoners, once they had liberties within their grasp, the weapon would have been used with deadly results.

Two of the prisoners, Charles Lambert and Clyde Turley, saved their way out of jail two months ago, prior to trial, but were later recaptured, tried and sentenced.

Two saws made from the steel strips of an army legging were found. A pair of gloves had been used to manufacture the saws. A number of half-inch steel rivets had been sawed through and the lever on the door of one cell broke so that when the door closed from the outside by the turnkey, it did not lock.

The tools with which the men worked are believed to have been smuggled into the jail by women who came to see them from time to time.

"Death Was Unavoidable"

After a two hours investigation Friday afternoon, Dr. J. D. Hendrickson, county coroner, rendered a verdict describing the death of Andrew Damm, who was struck by a street car near Schenckville one week ago, as "accidental" and "unavoidable."

Dr. Hendrickson's investigation included the examination under oath of eye witnesses and the conductor and motorman.

The investigation was conducted in the offices of the street railway company, and lasted about two hours.

MCCAULEY HELD TO GRAND JURY; RELEASED ON BOND

The preliminary hearing of Harlow McCauley, Dick Run young man, arrested on a paternity complaint made by Margaret Kirkendall, Hulse town young woman, before Acting Judge T. C. Beatty in Municipal court Friday afternoon, resulted in the defendant being bound over to the grand jury.

The complaint alleges that McCauley is the father of her unborn child. The accused furnished bond and was released from custody.

Henry Eccles Is New High School Principal

Henry Eccles, at present an instructor in High School and Webster High school in the summer school at Ohio Twp. Schools, has been in service, and has been chosen at a meeting of the Board of Education Friday night, to succeed C. E. Stanley, recently resigned, as principal of the High School.

Mr. Eccles was highly recommended to the board by Professor Apple, who had wide experience as a teacher, a man for the position. The board had had a student in Ohio Twp. who had been a student in the Ohio Twp. school, from which he graduated, he was another applicant for the position. Since his graduation, he has taught in Ohio Twp. at $4000 per year. Mr. Eccles is the Jackson High School, Chillicothe, he has his work here August 15th.

MOTORIZE FARM CARAVAN HAD A SUCCESSFUL TRIP FRIDAY

After a most successful day Friday, the "Motorized Farm" four arrived home about 6:00 p.m. Friday evening and drove promptly into the public square. The drivers and accompanying officials were very tired, but still full of pep.

Conspicuous contrast could be noted in the appearance of the trucks when they came to Friday night and when they left Friday morning. All showed that they had been over the road and that some of the dirt had been removed.

Friday was the most successful day of the four day motor trip. The weather was favorable. The route being taken was the most direct and the most scenic. The trip was made in a very short time. The trip was made in a very short time. The trip was made in a very short time.

Seek Men Who Took Car On Which There Is Line

The police are seeking two men, named Walter Barney and W. J. Alvey, who are wanted at Jacksonville, Fla., for alleged removing personal property out of the state of Florida in which there is a lien. It is claimed.

The property in question consists of a Buick automobile valued at $750 and it is claimed the men took the machine and left Jacksonville without the consent of the Mangels-Kirby company of that city, the real owner of the car by virtue of a written lien.

The two men were at Ashland a few days ago and according to Police Chief R. E. Payne of that city, they came to Portsmouth. One of the men is said to be working for the N. & W. and the police are making every effort to locate him.

AT ALLEN CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday, July 11th, at nine o'clock, there will be an able discussion, in the Allen Chapel S. S. on this practical point, namely: "True Friendship is Greater Than Blood Ties." Johnathan was not a friend of David for what he saw David gain from him, nor was David a friend of Johnathan for what he anticipated receiving, but they were just friends, loyal and true. Other topics on the Art of Friendship will be debated pro and con, therefore you are urged to be present and take a part therein. Wm. McLean, Fred A. Berry, Wm. Barnett and Richard Thomsen of the Membership Committee will be among the many loyal men to greet you.

$100,000 Suit At Chillicothe

CHILICOTHE, O., July 10.—The Sauer-Tinker case, which is concerned with what was termed by an attorney for the plaintiff, "the biggest suit in the history of Ross county," was argued in common pleas court, Friday morning.

The case, which has been in the local courts since early last June, is a suit brought by Miss Mary Sauer against Walter F. Tinker for the recovery of property valued at close to $100,000, out of which Miss Sauer claims she was fraudulently cheated by Tinker, her adviser. The property under question included four large farms and two residences in this city.

Testimony in the case was begun early in June and after a day's hearing, the case was continued until a later date in the same month. Evidence was completed on that day and the date for the closing arguments set for July 9. These arguments were made Friday morning, each side consuming one and one-half hours. The court will decide the case soon.

The attorneys in the case are Peter A. Blosser and Addison V. Marshall for the plaintiff, and John P. Phillips, Sr. and F. J. J. Cuthbert for the defendant.

Hanly Wants Harding To Take Dry Stand

MARION, O., July 10.—Senator Harding was urged to take a firm stand in support of national prohibition in his speech at John J. Frank Hanly prohibition candidate for president in 1920. Later it was announced that the senator had not committed himself regarding the matter, while Mr. Hanly said he hoped to be able to support him but "would wait to see what the senator said in his speech."

Electric Bulb Burst Inwardly.

When an electric bulb is burst, and or by design or accident, the force of the explosion is inwardly. This has been proved by painting the bulb with a harmless color, half red and half white. After the explosion, which may be accomplished by a well-aimed bullet from a pistol, the colored glass will be found fractured on the floor on the opposite side from which they were originally placed.

BACK TO THE "EVEN TENOR OF HIS WAY"

Sheet Mill Still Down

The Ashland Sheet Mill is still shut down, the management refusing to recognize the union, and the men are out on a strike. The affair will soon take on a serious aspect if there is not an early settlement.

As it now stands the men say that turtle fishing is not so easy as they thought, and the hard-shelled master won't bite. They intend to try it a while longer but if they don't see meet with success, H. C. Boger says they will go blackberry picking as there will be ripe. This means that the men will have a long vacation this summer.

JONES WILL AGAIN FACE TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

Thomas Jones, White Oak, Ky., following a dispute over a line fence, will again be placed on trial for his life before Judge W. B. Halbert and a jury in the circuit court at Greenup next Tuesday.

The crime for which Jones will be put on trial, occurred in February, 1919, when it is alleged, he clubbed to death, Joe Rogers, a neighbor farmer.

There is quite an array of legal talent in the case and the outcome of the legal battle will be watched with much interest throughout Greenup and adjoining counties, as well as in this city, where the defendant is quite well known. Among the attorneys for the prosecution are Blair & Blair of this city.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"About a year and a half ago," writes Mrs. Florence Rogers, now of this place, formerly of Florida, "I had got in very bad health. Everything was wrong. I couldn't eat anything that didn't make me suffer. My limbs also gave me great pain and the pains in the limbs extending down to the knees. I too had awful pains in the back and was very thin and run-down in health. . . . was terribly nervous. Everything would startle me. . . . An acquaintance told me of the great benefit she had received from Cardui. . . . I was so bad off I couldn't do my work. The little daughter had to take charge of the work, and I could hardly walk. . . . I began using Cardui, and in about a week I felt much improved. . . . I got better right along, after taking the Cardui. . . . In about 2 weeks after taking the Cardui, I was able to do all my work except the washing. . . . In a month more, I could do all my work, and the washing too. . . . Ladies: Take Cardui. . . . the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. ## OFF TO A BAD START

THE committee of 48 which is the body in charge of the formation of the new party is to enter the campaign, is having plenty of troubles of its own, as a beginning. Insurrection and division have already arisen over a candidate and the everlasting Irish question.

The candidate mostly favored was LaFollette, but only already the organized labor party that was to join in the new formation has succeeded at the mere mention of his name and antagonism is increased by the announcement that Henry Ford would take the presidential nomination.

Just what figure the new party will cut in the election and the parties that are bringing it forth are now only matters of speculation. So far those most active in it are mostly Republicans of much wealth and great riches so it can be taken that it will not lack in a financial way.

It is not, however, to be viewed as a revolt born of dissatisfaction with the work and nominee at Chicago, as it was well under way before either of the national conventions met. Animating spirits in it seem to be men who have long been out of sympathy with their party and are striving for theories so far out of tune therewith that they never could get that recognition and prominence in its ranks that their souls seemed to desire.

THE DANGEROUS ENTERING WEDGE

COUNCIL has voted to submit to the voters at the primary election, the matter of lifting the bond interest and sinking fund levies outside the limit of the Smith one per cent tax law.

In submitting the subject to council Mayor Gableman said he was unable to get any great information on the subject and that, if after consideration, the step should seem unwise it could be called back before submission.

It is fortunate, that assuaging, council approaches the consideration in the same spirit of caution.

Ohio is said to have the worst tax laws of any of the commonwealths. The saving grace thereof has been the one per cent limitation upon the tax rate. True enough it has been evaded in part and also annulled to a degree by raising the value of property, fictitiously and inequitably, but without the limitation we would have had this same work, and more taxes.

The Times is opposed to any further evasion and annulment of that limitation by exemption of certain kinds of tax levies from its restraint.

Through several adjourned sessions the legislature struggled in vain to compose a decent tax system for the state, but, largely because its course was hampered by and dictated from the outside, it failed ignominiously and as a last resort, on adjournment, threw as a sop to the frantic tax-spenders from the large cities, this crust of exemption from the one per cent rate.

There is neither truth nor sincerity, that taking out certain levies from its operation does not invalidate the Smith law or destroy its effectiveness. Such action does both of these things. Exemption of certain levies will increase the total tax rate and that is just what the law was passed to prevent. Tear one or two bricks out and that makes it easier to tumble down the whole wall.

Alarm about this or any other city going bankrupt need cause no serious alarm. The town would still be here and business going on as usual if she were legally bankrupt.

No occasion for Portsmouth providing against bankruptcy is presented sufficient to hurry her to increased taxation, not at least until the policy of economy, upon which the present administration entered, with such promising success, has been given a thorough tryout. It is our information that in one branch of a department a net saving of practically twenty thousand dollars has been made in six months. By rigid watchfulness elsewhere other substantial savings can also be accomplished, and in fair time prudence and thrift will not only place the city on the soundest of financial base, but establish and perpetuate a new practice in municipal government that will have a salutary influence on the future.

Of course, the harassments which administration and council are subject to in demands for various actions is distressing, especially with an inability to comply with any portion of them, and quite readily and properly they are eager to give a wider and more satisfactory service, but let them stand for a while at least, that it is better to endure the ills than to fly to those known not of. Conditions as existing are of long growth, incident largely to the rapid and continuous development of the city. It will require patience, time and the best judgment to successfully meet them.

The election to duck the Smith one per cent law, scheduled for August 10th should be called off; if it is not called off, the people should decisively defeat the proposal.

The new fire fighting apparatus, having shown on exhibition what it can do, the public is satisfied with it and has no hankering to see it called to more vital test at a conflagration.

The Cincinnati Enquirer seems about due to go back to its old position on the fence.

What's this about Perley Baker and Wayne Wheeler being at San Francisco to persuade the Democrats not to put a dry plank in their platform? Want an excuse for supporting Harding, they do. Well, they don't need any. Everybody knew that is just what they were always intending to do.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

A TRIP TO THE DENTIST

Went to the dentist this morning and passed a melancholy two hours there. Yes, it was all of two hours by the clock, and all my own fault, too. I had to have a tooth pulled, and was supposed to have had an appointment with Dr. Willes, but, of course, forgot. Artists never can remember such petty details! So I had to just wait my turn.

It was fun for awhile, for this was a place where only teeth are pulled, a tooth-pulling specialist, so to speak. Everyone who walked in was due to lose one or more teeth, and their faces were not cheerful, I can tell you.

One poor little red-haired girl came over and sat by me to cheer herself up, I fancy, for she had come alone, even as I had done. Trust me to face the very worst ordeal head up and fearless not to mention alone. It's part of my Spartan-like belief.

I watched this girl sitting forlornly and scanning the faces of everyone who emerged from the gas purveyor with a strange fear in her blue eyes. Finally I managed to catch her eyes and smiled. Pretty soon she came over to me, and we fell into conversation.

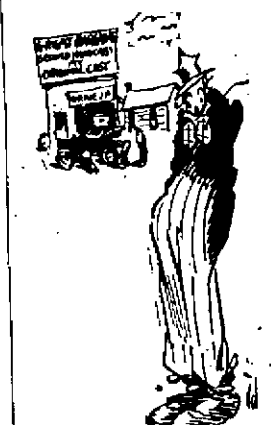

I discovered that this was her first trip to the dentist in any shape, form or manner, and that the reason she was alone was because she was an orphan and her only sister was at work.

By degrees we managed to start up quite a cheerful conversation for two people about to be executed, and several times my unknown friend actually laughed at one of my remarks.

On their way out, dozens of patients in one floor, hidden to view for a short space, and then out of the other door again. Some came out calmly, others with very red faces or crying. A few

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY G. O. MONTRE

NEW YORK, July 10.—It is one of those Broadway pits with the rizzling fire chatter of a soda water jerk in a few moments. They never leave the furnaces but once you have given up looking out the window where the water jerks the bad news, New York's fire department have lost their after midnight party, he is a familiar figure at the Westchester roadhouses.

His shirt and ties hit the entire chromatic scale with a bang, indeed he seems to have his own private spectrum. Beside the fact that his red is as vivid as that of the hardened criminal, he once occupied a chair in a fresh water college in the middle-west.

A college graduate with several degrees, he came to New York with good letters of recommendation. How he came to be one of Broadway's birds of prey furnishes a remarkable chapter in the history of the glided life of the White Way.

The man who told the story is the city editor of a large metropolitan paper and knows the facts. The fellow—call him Smith—left his college position to do some sociological work for a rich Manhattanite who had raved the college where he was employed. It was in the days before the legal calcium had flooded the courts, and Smith was only a dark corner and return was only a threat.

Smith tried to drop into underworld haunts to study human social phenomena. One night in a music hall in Brecker street he was sitting at a beer stained table listening to a pair of Dutch comedians perpetrating stale puns. A faded young creature, with pitiable efforts to show itself, dropped down in a chair beside him and in a cracked voice started conversation.

She was really seeking a purchaser of beer and sandwiches. Smith learned her story and he talked to her of her things. She was just ripe for such talk pursuing his advantage. Smith induced her to go to a country home, privately endowed, for wantons.

In the end Smith fell in love with the girl who, after dropping her own spasm, blossomed into a pretty woman. They were married. A few years later he found she had returned to her old haunts. He made a desperate effort to save her and failing they went down to the depths hand-in-hand. She finally died and he became a hopeless parasite, finishing out the remaining days of his mispent life as a cat clown.

Impudent young men in gold braided coats line the curbs of Broadway inviting pedestrians to become passengers.

Naturally
 "Well, old man, was your breach of promise suit a success?" "You bet. It went without a hitch."

The Natural Thing
 "Why are so many young people sent away from home to study music?" "Most natural thing you could imagine. Folks around the house don't want to be bothered hearing their practice."—Washington Star.

General's Magical Influence
 General Gordon's almost magical influence arose from the all-pervading sense, inspired by his mere presence, that there was a man who always was, and always would be inflexibly true to his highest conviction. When he was in the Sudan, he never hesitated to place outside his tent the white handkerchief, which meant, as all men knew, that he was at prayer and was during that sacred hour when he was alone with God, he must not be disturbed.—F. H. Chelley in "Stories for Talks to Boys."

The "Seven Sleepers"
 These were the heroes of an ancient legend. It is supposed that during the persecution of the Christians about 250 A. D. these seven Christian brothers of Ephesus took refuge in a cave. Their retreat was discovered and the mouth of the cave walled up. Two hundred years later the cave was accidentally opened and the men emerged, having slept through centuries as though they were but a single night. They found the Christian religion accepted in the city where they were honored and feled and where all of them died on the same day.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

MRS. GEORGE BASS
 Mrs. George Bass, the first woman in political history to preside over a national convention, which distinction was conferred upon her in San Francisco, is known as "the strongest woman in the Democratic party."

There were twelve suffrage stars at the time and ten of them were Democratic. Mrs. Bass's address gave her the credit for a large part of this victory.

In appearance, Mrs. Bass is not at all of the traditional feminist variety. She is neither athletic and aggressive nor soulful and idealistic in aspect. Instead she is a short, fair woman who might be described as roly-poly, if that were not undignified for a political leader. She has thin eyes, which color she does not hesitate to accentuate by a careful attention to her contouring. Mrs. Bass is noted among the women of all parts of the country for the correct dressing on all occasions.

She is admired not only for her excellent presiding abilities and the firm grip that she maintains on any political situation but for her sense of humor, which manifests itself in lively anecdotes with which she interlards her political addresses.

Before entering politics Mrs. Bass was a leader in women's club. For several years she was president of that famous organization, the Chicago Women's club. She also acted as a leader in the suffrage fight of her native state.

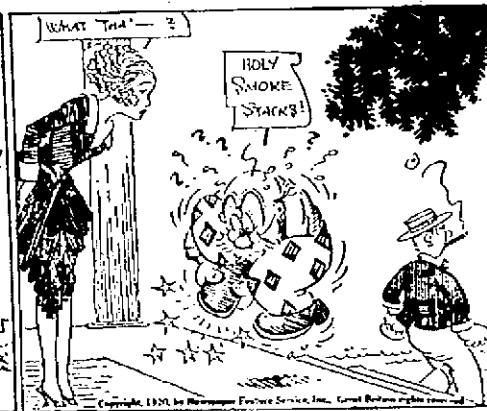

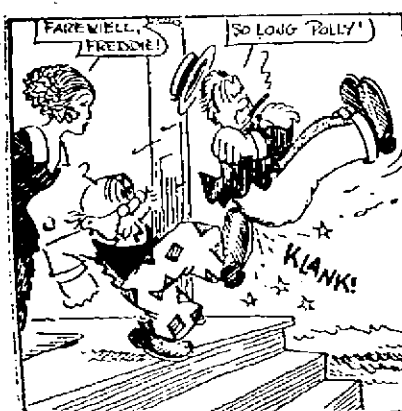

When suffrage was attained in Illinois instead of regarding it as a merely theoretical achievement Mrs. Bass promptly led the women of her party into an active participation in local politics. She has consistently advised women to join the political parties and work side by side with men in politics instead of seeking to form separate organizations. At the beginning of this campaign she was chairman of the women's bureau of the national Democratic committee and was one of two women on the committee of arrangements for the convention. The women's bureau of the Democratic party in Chicago and in New York. She will return soon to the latter city to organize a special bureau and otherwise prepare for its campaign.

Mrs. Bass retired from business several years ago. The family residence is in Chicago, and there is also a home in Wisconsin, where Mrs. Bass spends her summers in other than presidential years.

UNABLE TO AGREE ON FUSION THIRD PARTY CANDIDATE

CHICAGO, July 10—Delegates assembled in Chicago by the committee of eight and representatives of the single tax movement got together today to discuss the possibility of a fusion third party candidate to run on a platform satisfactory to both elements, continuing nearly all day between the committee leaders and the active heads of the national party, looking to further amalgamation, but not brought about agreement, however, and the single tax group also definitely announced that their participation in the first day's session with the committee of forty eight delegates was only tentative. It would not continue, Jerome C. Reis, said in their behalf, if Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, should be nominated for president, even though the committee of forty eight evinced a tendency to select him. Henry Ford, and Charles H. Torgerson, watchmaker, and Charles H. Torgerson, watchmaker, were discussed as possible compromise selections.

H. C. L. Bureaus Used To Boost Palmer's Candidacy Charged

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 10.—The congressional investigating committee planned to hold a hearing tonight, after adjournment today of several witnesses, who may be able to give information concerning the prearranged activities in behalf of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

After today's hearing Senator Kenyon will return to Washington, while Senators Reed and Spencer said they would return to their homes for a while.

Senators Edge and Pomeroy and other members are not present.

Three more women were subpoenaed for today's hearing. They are Mrs. John R. Rutledge, Mrs. Frank Hayes and Mrs. Anna L. Mehan, also of St. Louis and connected with the Missouri Women's High Cost of Living Bureau, which witnesses yesterday charged had been used "primarily to advance the candidacy of Palmer."

A. J. Stuever, wealthy St. Louisan, Edward F. Goltz, Democratic national committeeman, and Joseph T. Bates, St. Louis attorney, are expected to testify before the committee at future hearings probably in Washington, since they were not able to reach St. Louis for today's session.

Questioning of a dozen witnesses by the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures yesterday resulted in charges that high cost of living bureaus established by the department of justice to educate the people in lowering living costs, conducted their speeches to boosting Palmer and generally the only time where living costs were mentioned were when the speakers would explain that "election of Palmer to the presidency would mean lower prices."

"We were asked to include Palmer

He Loved His Wife But Murdered Her In Order To Be Free

CHICAGO, July 10.—Formal charges of murder were prepared today by State's Attorney Macfarlane to be preferred against Carl Wanderer, who confessed last night to the killing of his wife and a tramp.

"I murdered my wife. I shot her in cold blood. I had married her and wanted to get back in the army. It's free and easy. It's the life for me."

Stopping the barrage of questions that had been directed at him for hours by State's Attorney Herrin and three assistants, Lieutenant Carl Wanderer made this confession today.

Was Halted As Hero

Little more than a week ago, Lieutenant Wanderer was hailed as a hero, who had killed a hold-up man, after the latter had shot Mrs. Wanderer in the vestibule of their home. Last night he said he had employed the rascal stranger to "stage" the robbery, and that he had shot the man by accident, after killing his wife. The police believe the stranger was killed by Wanderer to seal forever the lips which might have told of his brutal crime.

Killed Army Life

"I grew to love the army life while serving in France. Wanderer is said to have confessed, 'I wanted to get back into it, but I couldn't with my wife on my hands. Besides, who was about to become a mother. I hated her for it. I think the thought of becoming a father must have driven me mad. I had a wife to support and here was a child coming—maybe twins. It's hard enough, nowadays, for a man to make a living for himself.'

Throughout the day in spite of the grilling examination to which he had been subjected, Wanderer attempted to uphold the story he had told since the night of the murder. He told how his wife had got into the line of his fire as he shot at the robber, and had been killed, and how he had then shot the hold-up man dead.

Slowly but surely, his story was broken down, until, with a wave of his hand he stopped his questioners, and declared he wanted to "tell the truth."

The unidentified man used by Wanderer to pose as a robber and then slain, was partly identified as William Noeth, who in 1911 or 1912 was employed by the Gentry Brothers Circus while in Southern Indiana.

"We shall go before the grand jury and ask his indictment on a charge of murder," State's Attorney Hoyne said. "It is one of the most cold-blooded and revolting crimes in Chicago's history. We shall ask an immediate trial and the rope."

"I want to be hanged," Wanderer commented. "I hope to join her in death. I wonder if she will forgive me. Well, I loved her too much to let another man have her. But I didn't want her myself."

Wanderer said he did not wish to desert his wife and join the army but wished to be "free."

He was removed from the cell he occupied in the detention home yesterday to the "death cell" from which several murderers have gone to their fate.

"I like the cell all right, but I can't rest on these boards," he declared. "Get my blankets from my old cell. This was done."

He continued: "I certainly will sleep much better now. I feel better with that off my chest. I had had dreams and the picture of the hallway with my wife lying there came back every once in a while. I feel like a new man and I'm ready to kick off whenever they want to take me."

"One of the anomalies of the case which misled the police for weeks was the romance of the couple and their happy married life supposedly. Wanderer, who never smoked, chewed, drank or indulged in slang, had but one love affair, the one with Ruth Johnson, who became his wife at the conclusion of a war romance."

"She was the only girl I ever kissed," he told the police. They married after the ex-soldier returned from France.

Wanderer's story of how the rascal stranger was hired to be the unwilling victim in the double murder was told by him in the same cold-blooded, unemotional way he related the details of his wife's death.

He picked up the man on the west side on the day of the murder by offering him a job as a truck driver. An appointment was made for that evening. When the stranger came Wanderer told him that he wanted him to follow Mrs. Wanderer into the apartment house and stage a fake hold-up. When Wanderer and his wife

'Corrupt Factions Conquered At Frisco'—Penrose

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—That "the corrupt and disreputable elements of the party" had conquered at San Francisco was the assertion today of Senator Boies Penrose, who discussed for the first time the nomination of Governor Cox as the Democratic presidential candidate. He named Tammany hall as among the victors.

"The Cox candidate, even though opposed to much Wisconsin, will lose the intellectual and respectable group attracted by Wilson," the senator declared.

"The Democratic convention was controlled by politicians of the ward leader type," was his answer to another question. "I am decidedly of the opinion that the nomination of Governor Cox constitutes a repudiation of the Wilson leadership, because, after his election, the president ignored the old-time leaders of his party in most of the states. He surrendered to a lot of amateurs chiefly known by the vague designation of progressives. The time has come when the real workers in the party have shown that they are the real leaders and the bone and shew of the party."

West May Be One Of Chief Battle Grounds

HAYTON, O., July 10.—That the west may be developed into one of the chief battle grounds early in the national political campaign was the inference drawn from today's developments.

Gov. James M. Cox stated that many requests that he open the campaign in the west have been received, and the Democratic nominee left the impression that he at least was interested in the proposition, if not, in fact, favorable to it. He stated, however, that he could say nothing definite on the subject until he has conferred with the national committee.

Lord Fisher Dies From Operation

LONDON, July 10.—Admiral John Arbuthnot Fisher, first baron of Kilgobbin, and former first lord of the admiralty, died this morning.

Lord Fisher underwent a serious operation yesterday and failed to rally.

Lord Fisher began his naval career in 1854, and while on active service he took part in the Crimean, Chinese, and Egyptian wars. He became first lord of the admiralty in 1905, and first sea lord of the admiralty in 1910, which post he held for six years.

He emerged from retirement in October, 1914, to resume his post as first sea lord of the admiralty, and direct the naval warfare against Germany. His vigorous policy caused him to be termed "the Kitchener of the British navy," and chief credit has been claimed for him in the building up of the German navy. Fisher's duties led to his resignation in May,

Huge Still Captured In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 10.—Officers of the state prohibition department brought to Charleston yesterday what they declared to be the largest moonshine whiskey still in the state, and which they said had been responsible for the death of at least two men. One man, it is said, was killed in a fight over the still, and another's death was caused as the result of drinking liquor distilled in it.

The still, of fifty gallon mash capacity, was seized in the mountains of Hatfield county, but the operators escaped. The prohibition agents said it was capable of turning out 12 gallons of moonshine every 24 hours and that it had been operated by day and night for some time.

Twelve secret locations had been noted for the still on the same farm, they declared.

The aged man is held by the agents in connection with the seizure of the still. It is alleged he acted as a "lookout" for the operators.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 1.—Speculative favorites were again in the foreground at the opening of today's brief stock market session. Houston oil, spectacular feature rose 3 points and advances of 1 to 2 points marked the early trading in Vanadium steel, Strohmeier carburetor, National automobile and United States rubber. Unfavorable conditions in the textile trade probably accounted for the pressure against American woolen which soon forfeited 3 points. Union Pacific, Norfolk and Western, Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker, retail stores, and Regatta Iron were fractionally lower.

THE DANGEROUS ENTERING WEDGE

COUNCIL has voted to submit to the voters, at the primary election, the matter of lifting the bond interest and sinking fund levies outside the limit of the Smith one per cent tax law.

In submitting the subject to council Mayor Gableman said he was unable to get any great information on the subject and that, if after consideration, the step should seem unwise it could be called back before submission.

It is fortunate, that, assuming, council approaches the consideration in the same spirit of caution.

Ohio is said to have the worst tax laws of any of the commonwealths. The saving grace thereof has been the one per cent limitation upon the tax rate. True enough it has been evaded in part and also annulled to a degree by raising the value of property, fictitiously and inequitably, but without the limitation we would have had this same work, and more taxes.

The Times is opposed to any further evasion and annulment of that limitation by exemption of certain kinds of tax levies from its restraint.

Through several adjourned sessions the legislature struggled in vain to compose a decent tax system for the state, but, largely because its course was hampered by and dictated from the outside, it failed ignominiously and as a last resort, on adjournment, threw as a sop to the frantic tax-payers from the large cities, this crust of exemption from the one per cent rate.

There is neither truth nor sincerity, that taking out certain levies from its operation does not invalidate the Smith law or destroy its effectiveness. Such action does both of these things. Exemption of certain levies will increase the total tax rate and that is just what the law was passed to prevent. Tear one or two bricks out and that makes it easier to tumble down the whole wall.

Alarm about this or any other city going bankrupt need cause no serious alarm. The town would still be here and business going on as usual if she were legally bankrupt.

No occasion for Portsmouth providing against bankruptcy is presented sufficient to hurry her to increased taxation, not at least until the policy of economy, upon which the present administration entered, with such promising success, has been given a thorough tryout. It is our information that in one branch of a department a net saving of practically twenty thousand dollars has been made in six months. By rigid watchfulness elsewhere other substantial savings can also be accomplished, and in fair time prudence and thrift will not only place the city on the soundest of financial base, but establish and perpetuate a new practice in municipal government that will have a salutary influence on the future.

Of course, the harassments which administration and council are subject to in demands for various actions is distressing, especially with an inability to comply with any portion of them, and quite readily and properly they are eager to give a wider and more satisfactory service, but let them stand for a while at least, that it is better to endure the ills than to fly to those known ones. Conditions as existing are of long growth, incident largely to the rapid and continuous development of the city. It will require patience, time and the best judgment to successfully meet them.

The election to duck the Smith one per cent law, scheduled for August 10th should be called off; if it is not called off, the people should decisively defeat the proposal.

The new fire fighting apparatus, having shown on exhibition what it can do, the public is satisfied with it and has no hankering to see it called to more vital test at a conflagration.

The Cincinnati Enquirer seems about due to go back to its old position on the fence.

What's this about Perley Baker and Wayne Wheeler being at San Francisco to persuade the Democrats not to put a dry plank in their platform? Want an excuse for supporting Harding, they do. Well, they don't need any. Everybody knew that is just what they were always intending to do.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

A TRIP TO THE DENTISTS

Went to the dentist's this morning and passed a melancholy two hours there. Yes, it was all of two hours by the clock, and all my own fault. Too I had to have a tooth pulled, and was supposed to have made an appointment with Dr. Willes, but, of course, forgot. Artists never can remember such petty details! So I had to just wait my turn.

It was fun for awhile, for this was a place where only teeth are pulled, a tooth pulling specialist, so to speak. Everyone who walked in was due to lose one or more teeth, and their faces were not cheerful, I can tell you.

One poor little red-haired girl came over and sat by me to cheer herself up. I fancy, for she had come alone, even as I had done. Trust me to face the very worst ordeals head up and fearless not to mention afraid. It's part of my Spartan-like belief.

I watched this girl sitting forlornly, and scanning the faces of everyone who emerged from the gas parlors with a strange fear in her blue eyes. Finally I managed to catch her eyes and smiled. Pretty soon she came over to me, and we fell into conversation.

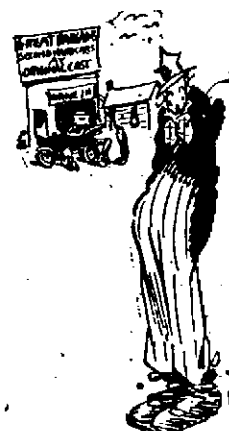

I discovered that this was her first trip to the dentist's in any shape, form or manner, and that the reason she was alone was because she was an orphan and her only sister was at work.

By degrees we managed to start up quite a cheerful conversation for two people about to be executed, and several times my unknown friend actually laughed at one of my remarks.

On they came dozens of patients, in one door, hidden to view for a short space, and then out of the other door again. Some came out calmly, others with very red faces or crying. A few

If Only I—

"If only I had the chance—"

"If only I could land the kale—"

These are the cries, the alibis.

The words of those who fail:

The lazy lad who loves his ease

How lull is he to really try!

Thun lull a job he'd rather sob,

"If only I—"

"If I have a plenty in the bank

If only I— I know the rest!

It is the speech, the wait of each

Whenever he would try to tell

Why he is what he is and why

He'd rather lie about and sigh,

"If only I—"

The lad who's busy at his chore,

Who's over-tiring at his lab,

He'll never win that dreamy line,

Those words are never his!

Nor has he time to pause and hear,

But at his desk he bustles by

Well, if it had not been for him all my valuable stock would have been burned under that bed of burning coals and I should have been a poor man, as all my wealth is tied up in horses and cattle. The best way in the world to drive the drudgery out of your work is to put lots of heart and spirit into it.

Why She Thinks It

"What made you think this man was going to marry me?"

"Your beauty," replied the stage beauty, who was doing a millionaire for a bunch of promises.

"I accepted a motor car from him, furs, diamonds, pearls and trinkets of that sort as a matter of course. Such gifts didn't necessarily mean that he was in earnest, but when he told me the combination to his wine cellar, I considered that equivalent to a proposal of marriage."

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. C. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, July 10—He is one of those Broadway wits with the running fire of chatter of a soda water jerk. He furnishes bonanzas for the privilege of looking out the window when the weather turns the new. Not that the Broadway wits have lost their after midnight gaiety, he is a familiar figure at the Westchester roadhouses.

His shirt and ties hit the entire chromatic scale with a bang, indeed he seems to have his own private spectrum. Despite the fact that his hair is as solid as that of the hardened criminal, he once occupied a chair in a fresh water college in the middle west.

A college graduate with several degrees, he came to New York with good letters of recommendation. How he came to be one of Broadway's birds of prey furnishes a remarkable chapter in the history of the gibed life of the White Way.

The man who told me the story is the city editor of a large metropolitan paper and knows the facts. The fellow, call him Smith, left his college position to do some sociological work for a rich Manhattanite who had endowed the college where he was employed. It was in the days before the legal calcium had flooded the dark corners and reform was only a threat.

Smith used to drop into underworld haunts to study human social phenomena. One night in a rustic hall in Hecuba street he was sitting at a long table listening to a pair of Dutch comedians perpetrating stale gags. A faded young creature, with pitiable efforts to show itself, dropped down in a chair beside him and in a cracked voice started conversation.

She was really seeking a purchaser of her and her mother's. Smith learned her story and he talked to her of her things. She was just ripe for such talk, yearning his advantage. Smith induced her to go to a country home, privately endowed, for a winter.

In the end Smith fell in love with the girl, who, after dropping her disposition, blossomed into a pretty woman. They were married. A few years later he found she had returned to her old haunts. He made a desperate effort to save her and failing they went down to the depths hand and hand. She finally died and he became a hopeless parasite, finishing out the remaining days of his rags life as a rags clown.

Impudent young men in gold braided coats line the ends of Broadway inviting pedestrians to become passengers in the rap wagon leaving for Chatham, Long and Coney, "in just a few moments." They never leave until filled but once you have given them your fare there is nothing to do but wait. Even casually could be heard people here to wait on entire afternoon after paying for the ride. There are always a few "decoy" passengers who are paid to sit in the wagon.

The ballyhoos stand out in front and fall to passersby. The other day he drove the Astor one was haranguing the crowd and a well built young man with a pretty girl walked along.

"Take your girl to Coney Isle. If she don't want to sit beside you I'll sit beside her."

Two minutes later men from the corner drug store were pouring cold water over the pale face of a prostrate form at the curb. O yes, he wore a gold braided coat.

Five airplanes were flying over Fifth Avenue the other afternoon. The roof of the regatta could be heard distinctly. I stood at a window and watched the people for two blocks.

Only three in my line of vision looked up and then only for a few seconds.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

MRS. GEORGE BASS

Mrs. George Bass, the first woman in political history to preside over a national convention, which distinction was conferred upon her in San Francisco, is known as "the strongest woman in the Democratic party," and has long been recognized as an astute politician, sufficiently powerful to work along with national figures. Mrs. Bass did remarkable work for the Democratic party in 1916, when she organized the women of suffrage states for the campaign.

There were twelve suffrage states at the time and ten of them went Democratic. Mrs. Bass's admirers give her the credit for a large part of this victory.

In appearance, Mrs. Bass is not at all of the traditional feminist variety.

She is neither athletic and aggressive nor soulful and idealistic in aspect.

Instead she is a short, fair woman, of light build, described as a "poly-poly" of the most undignified for a political leader. She has thin eyes, whose color she does not hesitate to accentuate by a careful attention to her costuming. Mrs. Bass is noted among the women of all parts of the country for the correct dressing on all occasions.

She is admired not only for her excellent presiding abilities, and the firm grip that she maintains on any political situation but for her sense of humor, which manifests itself in lively anecdotes with which she inter-lards her political addresses.

Before entering politics Mrs. Bass was a leader in women's clubs. For several years she was president of that famous organization, the Chicago

Women's Club. She also entered heartily into the suffrage fight of her native state.

When suffrage was attained in Illinois instead of regarding it as a mere theoretical achievement Mrs. Bass promptly led the women of her locality into an active participation in political life. She has consistently advised women to join the political parties and work side by side with men in politics instead of seeking to form separate organizations. At the beginning of this campaign she was made chairman of the women's bureau of the national Democratic committee and was one of two women on the committee of arrangements for the convention. The women's bureau operated headquarters in Chicago and later in New York. She will return soon to the latter city to organize a speaker's bureau and otherwise prepare for the campaign.

Mrs. Bass retired from business several years ago. The family residence is in Chicago, and there is also a Bass farm in Wisconsin, where Mrs. Bass spends her summers in other than presidential years.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Ironton Council Deals Jolts To Mayor Collett

Ironton City Council paid but little attention to the communication from Mayor Collett suggesting that bids be sought from various corporations for the Ironton street railway franchise. The councilmen also turned down the Mayor's Health Board appointments. Concerning these matters the Irontonian in the report of the proceedings of the Ironton Council last evening said:

"A communication from the Mayor setting forth his views on the street railway franchise matter, attracted little attention for the reason that it had been explained in the public press by the Mayor before being given to Council. As one member remarked: 'If the honorable Mayor would leave a little more about public affairs and contemplate legislation before rushing into print with his objections it would be better for him.' It was pointed out that the Mayor did not know what was in the ordinance, although it had been discussed for weeks, and had not taken sufficient interest in the matter to meet with council when it was finally considered. It was pointed out by members that no increased fare for 25 years was allowed but that the fare was made of cents with the provision that it would be changed by agreement or by ordinance at any time.

"When the ordinance came up for discussion City Solicitor Irish argued that the rate of fare, either 6 or 7 cents as might be decided upon should be allowed without any provision for ordinance but council maintained the clause in the ordinance and it was adopted under suspension of the rules by unanimous vote as it stood. The fare provided for originally is 6 cents.

In connection with the adoption of the ordinance Mr. James required of Supt. Thomas what the company proposed to do regarding repairs to the line. Mr. Thomas stated that the application for an extension of franchise and an increase in fare was for the purpose of making it possible to raise funds for the betterment of the system as it was now in a run down condition and would have to be materially improved.

"When the matter of continuation of the Mayor's recommendations for members of the Board of Health was taken up for discussion it was decided to take a secret ballot on the proposition and this being done resulted in six negative votes. 'This will make it necessary for the Mayor to either send in the same recommendations at some future meeting or a new list for health board members.'

HUNTINGTON "JAILBIRDS" ARE FOILED IN A DESPERATE PLAN TO ESCAPE

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 10.—Wholesale depredations committed in the county jail in an effort to accomplish a general delivery of prisoners, discovered within the last few days have led to the sending of four men to Mountbelle penitentiary. All had been sentenced but it is the custom to hold convicts until the end of the court term, when all go to prison together.

Sheriff H. E. Love requested that Charles Lambert, one year for burglary; Clyde Turley, six years for grand larceny; Homer Millard, two years for forgery, and Parker Bush, two years for larceny, be sent immediately because of their dangerous character.

The desperate intentions of the four men are disclosed in the finding of a bank chain knotted at one end so as to make a vicious "lift" in one of the cells. The jail authorities believe that in case of an effort to stop the prisoners, once they had liberty within their grasp, the weapon would have been used with deadly results.

Two of the prisoners, Charles Lambert and Clyde Turley, saved their escape from jail two months ago, prior to trial, but were later recaptured, tried and sentenced.

Two saws made from the steel strips of an army legging were found. A pair of splinters had been used to manufacture the saws. A number of half-inch steel rivets had been saved through and the lever on the door of one cell broke so that when the door closed from the outside by the turnkey, it did not lock.

The tools with which the men worked are believed to have been smuggled into the jail by women who came to see them from time to time.

$100,000 Suit At Chillicothe

CHILICOTHE, O., July 10.—The Sauer-Thinker case, which is concerned with what was termed by an attorney for the plaintiff, "the biggest steal in the history of this county," was argued in common pleas court, Friday morning.

The case, which has been in the local courts since early last June, is a suit brought by Miss Mary Sauer against Walter F. Thinker for the recovery of property valued at close to $100,000, which Miss Sauer claims she was fraudulently cheated by Thinker, her adviser. The property under question included four large farms and two residences in this city.

Testimony in the case was begun early in June and after a day's hearing, the case was continued until a later date in the same month. Evidence was completed on that day and the date for the closing arguments set for July 3. These arguments were made Friday morning, each side consuming one and one-half hours. The court will decide the case soon.

The attorneys in the case are Peter J. Blosser and William P. Minshall for the plaintiff, and John P. Phillips, Sr., and Elijah J. Cartright for the defendant.

MOTORIZE FARM CARAVAN HAD A SUCCESSFUL TRIP FRIDAY

After a most successful day Friday, the "Motorized Farm" four arrived home about 6 o'clock Friday evening and drove promptly into the public square. The drivers and accompanying officials were very tired, but still full of pep.

Considerable contrast could be noted in the appearance of the trix, when they came in Friday night and when they left Tuesday morning. All showed that they had gone over a hard road, and those who were driving the four showed the effects of the trip.

Friday was the most successful day of the tour, the weather being most favorable. The four left the town of Jasper, Ind., at 7 a. m. and traveled over again, reaching Schenckville at 11 a. m. E. M. Baker, driver for the day, and J. B. White, of Ironton, were the drivers. The four were accompanied by a large number of spectators, who were very interested in the trip.

The place for Saturday is still leaving the public square at 11 a. m. to leave at 11 a. m. and then returning to the city about 11:30 for a short party about town. After the party the caravan will disband.
